

My name is Joe Johnson, and I like to wake up early to catch up on my sports-watching.

In the morning, I need some fast
and good food so
that my day can get up and going.

GRUBHUB

I go to my local eatery to get that food, and ordering kiosk says that the lines are short. Time to order my food.

I have ordered my food
over half an hour ago and I still haven't gotten my food yet! I have places to be. If only I had a way to actually know how long
the wait was going to be.

Wait a minute,
these students at
this eatery are
using an app
called “Grubhub
for Students”.
Maybe I could use
it too.

3 days later...

Wow, this app sure is helpful. It allows me to see how long the wait is before ordering my food, and allows me to cancel my order after paying and get a refund if I change my mind. This app is awesome!
